

Stainless Steel Cable Tray Supply in Ukraine

AI Overview

Ukraine has a growing stainless steel cable tray industry with local manufacturers producing high-quality trays for industrial, commercial, and residential applications. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

Kablex-Ukraine is a modern Ukrainian manufacturer established in 2014, producing certified cable and wire products, including stainless steel cable trays. They emphasize quality control at all stages, from material procurement to final product testing, ensuring compliance with international standards.

Flexel Ukraine develops and supplies metal cable tray systems under the "FLEXEL" trademark. While some production is outsourced to European plants in the Czech Republic, Poland, and Turkey, Flexel provides custom designs and maintains large storage facilities in Kiev, distributing products across all regions of Ukraine. Their product range includes perforated, ladder, wire mesh, and floor cable tray systems made from steel of varying thicknesses, suitable for industrial and commercial installations.

Brilltech Engineers offers a wide range of cable trays, including stainless steel, ladder, perforated, and PVC types. They focus on customized solutions, quality assurance, and timely delivery, serving both domestic and international clients.

Ensytec acts as a distributor of cable trays and related electrical installation products in Ukraine, supplying brands like Baks and Stilma, which include stainless steel options.

Product Types and Features

Stainless steel cable trays in Ukraine are available in several designs:

- Wire Mesh Trays: Lightweight, excellent ventilation, minimal connecting elements, suitable for high-humidity or aggressive environments.
- Ladder Trays: Ideal for heavy-duty industrial applications, providing strong support for large cable bundles.
- Perforated Trays: Allow for easy cable fastening and ventilation, commonly used in commercial and industri...
