

Supplier of 1200mm deep corrugated conduit

AI Overview

You can source 1200mm deep corrugated conduits from specialized suppliers like EMC-direct, murrplastik, Ekabel24, and Picenum Plast, offering flexible, durable, and industry-grade options. Recommended Suppliers EMC-direct GmbH & Co KG offers a wide range of corrugated conduits in various materials such as polyamide 6, polypropylene, PVC, PE, EVA, and PFA. Their conduits are flexible, bendable, and suitable for diverse industrial applications. EMC-direct provides guidance on selecting the ideal conduit for your specific installation needs, including halogen-free options and different nominal widths for cable protection. murrplastik specializes in industrial cable protection hoses and corrugated conduits. Their products are robust, easy to install, and designed for effective protection of cables and wires in industrial environments. They also provide screw connection solutions and accessories for secure installation. Ekabel24.de supplies high-quality flexible corrugated conduits that offer optimum protection for electrical cables and wires. Their range includes conduits suitable for both in-building and underground installations. Picenum Plast provides high-strength PE corrugated conduits for underground and in-building cable installations. Their conduits feature smooth internal surfaces for easy cable threading and external corrugation for mechanical resistance. Picenum Plast offers single-tube and flexible conduit options, technical data sheets, and installation guidance to ensure durability and ease of use. TKD Kabel also offers standard corrugated conduits suitable for various electrical installations, with options for different diameters and materials.

Key Considerations

Material: Choose based on environmental conditions and chemical resistance (PE, PVC, polyamide, etc.).

Flexibility: Flexible conduits allow easier routing in complex installations.
