

Which connector company is CS

AI Overview

"CS" can refer to multiple connector-related entities: CS-Connectors GmbH, CS connectors by a precision manufacturer, or the CS fiber optic connector standardized by TIA.

CS-Connectors GmbHCS-Connectors GmbH, founded in 1982, is a German company specializing in electromechanical products, including connectors, cable assemblies, switches, inductors, and plastic components for industrial applications . They provide both standard and customized solutions for circuit boards and other electromechanical systems, emphasizing high-quality standards and development competence .

CS Connectors (Precision Interconnects)Another "CS" refers to a precision connector manufacturer with over 50 years of experience, offering interconnect solutions for automotive, industrial, appliance, and power applications . Their products include a wide range of series such as 28, 48, 50, 63, 95, and RAST 5, designed for secure, repeatable connections. They also provide custom solutions tailored to mechanical, electrical, and regulatory requirements .

CS Fiber Optic ConnectorThe CS fiber optic connector is a Very Small Form Factor (VSFF) connector used in high-density fiber optic applications . It is standardized by the Telecommunications Industry Association (TIA) under ANSI/TIA-604-19 Type SEN and is compatible with QSFP-DD, OSFP, and COBO transceivers . This connector allows for double the density of LC duplex connectors, improving cable management and airflow in patch panels, and features a push-pull tab for easy insertion and removal .

SummaryCS-Connectors GmbH: German electromechanical connector and component manufacturer .CS connectors (precision interconnects): Manufacturer of automotive and industrial connectors with a broad product portfolio .CS fiber optic connector: Standardized VSFF fiber optic connector for high-density applications, recognized by TIA . The term "CS" can therefore refer to either a company or a specific connector type depending on the context—electromechanical, industrial, or...
